Mark your calendars Lyons! More than 48 local artisans, including Native American crafters, will have their works for sale along the St Vrain Creek in beautiful Bohn Park, from 10 am - 4 pm, Saturday, Sept. 6. ### CALL FOR ARTISTS

The Lyons Arts & Humanities Commission (LAHC) continues its Creative Outlets program, bringing more color and creativity to everyday public spaces by transforming town-owned utility boxes into works of art. With support from the Lyons Community Foundation, the next project will brighten the utility box in front of the Lyons Fire Department. The selected artist will receive a $1,000 stipend for their design and installation. Details on how to get involved are available online:

REMAIN BEAR AWARE DURING HYPERPHAGIA

Black bears in Colorado are entering hyperphagia and will spend up to 20 hours a day trying to eat more than 20,000 calories to fatten up for winter.

As bears start to prepare for hibernation and hunt for food, there will likely be increased bear activity in Lyons. Keep your trash in the garage or secure it until the morning of your trash pick up. Do not put it out the night before.

Locking up trash and other potential food sources from bears is important to prevent them from becoming reliant on these sources for food. Bears become more of a risk when they associate humans with a food source. Garbage kills bears.

GET INVOLVED IN LYONS

Join a board or commission and help to shape the future direction of Lyons. There are several vacancies, including HHSC and SFC.
